THE WESTVIAN

The Senior Class

1952

West View High School, West View, Pa.

FOREWORD

We, as Seniors in West View High School have only crossed one of the many goal lines that lie before us in the game of life. Even as far as we have gone, the way has been hard. Many times every one of us has felt the dominating power of rough competition and even rougher opposition — opposition forcing us to lose yardage — opposition forcing us out of bounds. But always we have had the spirit to win. We have finally reached one of many goals, graduation. As a team, we have worked and trained to achieve it.

With this in mind, football was chosen as the theme of the 1952 Westvian. For isn't life comparable to a football game?

Come and let us show you our part of the game in West View. You will see our coaches and referees, our fumbles and fine play, our wins and bitter losses, and our excellent teamwork. Come and share the grief and glory with us as we unfold only the first half of our most vital game.

ADMINISTRATORS

As each academic year reaches its fulfillment, a number of young men and women approach the close of their public school career. This graduation occurs throughout the nation, but each school considers its own class as a vital part of itself. We are one of those schools.

We have watched each of you grow from a child; we have shared many of your joys and your sorrows; we have seen you increase in wisdom, in stature and in favor with God and man. We see you now at the threshold of mature manhood and womanhood, and we rejoice with you upon your attainments.

You are leaving the physical buildings which you have called your Alma Mater; and you bequeath to those who follow you, those aspects of schools which you and they see tangibly as edifices of brick and stone. You take with you—indeed you cannot leave behind, try as hard as you will—your true Alma Mater, your “Other Mother,” of your childhood and youth training and ideals which you have secured within those walls.

The world in which you have lived and which you face has been and is at present a tumultuous and confused home of humanity. Our efforts have been devoted toward enabling you better to face those tasks confronting you; and in humility we pray that in conjunction with your church and your home, we may have been in some way successful.

The 1952 Westvian is not merely another book. It is a living, vital record to you and to us, to be read and reread, and to be a reminder of those whose acquaintance and friendship have brought light and happiness into our lives. As we greet you from this page you take with you our best wishes for success and happiness. To each of you, we wish Godspeed.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

One of our most important civic groups, the Board of Education, is chosen by the citizens of the school district. They have proven capable of supervising school matters; and to them falls the task of passing final approval on all plans concerning the school. They have many and varied problems. They must, among other things, secure maintenance for the ten buildings in the North Hills Joint School system; prepare a budget; plan any additions to old buildings, or entirely new ones, where populations are increasing at a rapid rate; hire all personnel, such as teachers, secretaries and others. The School Board has many plans for the high school. Among them is the addition of a new wing to the high school building. It would provide a new gymnasium, new music and shop rooms, and science rooms. The Joint Board, a civic group of which our school and community can be proud, is held in high esteem by students and citizens alike, for a year's job well done.

SENIOR EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Who made our Senior class so successful? Of course, our hard working Senior Executive Council! Under the supervision of Mrs. Zeiler and Mr. Martorelli the Senior Executive Council planned many activities and special events that made our last year in high school a pleasant memory.

The members of the council were president, Harry Pople; vice president, Bob Taylor; secretary, Libby Phelps; treasurer, Janet Moore — and the homeroom representatives. These capable people managed the business of the senior class and tried to please every class member.

The "Hobo House" was planned by the Executive Council. It was held at the North Park Lodge. A square dance highlighted the evening and the traditional play was put on by the "Green Jacket Boys."

Besides planning the successful activities, the council made the necessary arrangements for the Dinner Dance which was held in March, the senior class play, and the class day activities. They also ordered the graduation announcements and name cards.

Each senior homeroom was posted on the class events by their representatives, who also collected the class dues.

The Senior class can be proud of the excellent job that their council and sponsors did. They graduated from West View with many delightful memories.

STUDENT COUNCIL

makes the rules

A Student Council is the backbone of a school. It can be either weak or strong. Here at West View we are proud to say that our Student Council is one of the strongest types of student government existing.

Student Council plays a very important part in our students' school life. It gives them a chance to express their likes, dislikes, and feelings toward the rules governing the school.

The main purposes of Student Council are to plan all the assemblies, compose the student handbook, develop a good school spirit among the students, help coordinate the faculty and students, and govern the student body.

One of the many achievements that Student Council attained this year, was the commendable record made in the magazine campaign. Selling $4,300 worth of subscriptions by urging the students to raise that amount of money, the school was able to finance many worthy projects and have more and better assemblies.

Student Council consists of eight cabinet officers and as many representatives as there are homerooms. Bob McCartney was our capable president who presided over the meetings and assemblies.

The council meets regularly every Monday during activity period. Any additional meetings are held if necessary or in case of an emergency. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Metz, the council carried out many of its plans and achieved many of its goals during the year.

The students of West View look to our Student Council with great esteem and respect. We realize that it is an outstanding governing body. With that thought in mind we have great desires to improve and better the school through our Student Council.

WESTVIAN STAFF

Good Better Best
Never let it rest
Till the good is better
And better; is best.

This was the motto of the 1952 Westvian staff. Their dream was to turn out the best yearbook that had ever been introduced into West View High School.

All during the past summer the editors of the different staffs met with Carole Kennedy, the Editor-in-Chief. First, a theme had to be chosen. This problem was solved, when they decided to pattern the yearbook after a football game. This was a rather difficult task, but with hard work and untiring effort, they planned the yearbook down to the smallest detail so that when school started they would be all set to go.

The first job the members had, was to secure patrons. They helped to pay for more than half of the expense. After two weeks of hard work, Harry Pople and Don Winner, the Business Managers, announced that we had topped our goal. The Westvian staff sold programs at all our home football games. These and other projects helped to finance the yearbook.

The Literary Staff, under the supervision of Nancy Jones, spent many hours writing about the favorites of all the seniors. They worked many days after school proof-reading each write-up. It would be a big disappointment to Nancy and her diligent staff if a senior wasn't pleased with his write-up.

A familiar sight around West View High all year was Janet Moore, the Photography editor, and Mr. Eckert from Strem Studios. Pictures had to be taken of every club and activity without confusion. Say "cheese" and "watch the birdie" were heard by nearly every student.

The Activities Staff, headed by Marianne Atwell, made many new friends by identifying the pictures of all the clubs. The members of this staff also had to obtain all the information about the different activities and write it into interesting write-ups.

Ann Herndon and her Art Staff created the clever drawings that you see throughout this yearbook. Without these attractive eye-catchers the yearbook would be dull and uninteresting. Without Ann and her staff, the yearbook would not have been the same.

A fairly new section of the yearbook was the Features. This staff was headed by Joan Hartstein. There you will find pictures and write-ups about the senior activities, the May Day Festival, the Class Plays, the Senior Dinner Dance, our Junior Prom, and other featured things in the school.

Sports were a big thing at West View. Roy Williams and his Sports Staff did our teams honor in their write-ups. They spent many hours collecting the information and writing about each sport event, also, they had the difficult duty of keeping the scores of the games straight, so they would be accurate in the Westvian.

Ila Windle and her Typing Staff were kept busy typing every write-up and activity in the yearbook. They deserve a lot of praise for their conscientious work.

It was Carole Kennedy's job, as Editor-in-Chief, to see that the right pictures, write-ups, and identifications were sent to the printers at the right time, proof-read and complete.

First row — J. Hartstein, M. Atwell, N. Jones
 Second row — H. Pople, I. Windle, J. Moore, A. Herndon, Mr. Herman, Mr. Puchta
 Third row — D. Winner, C. Kennedy, R. Williams

Carole also had to assemble a "Dummy" to guide the printer in his huge task.

The Yearbook sponsors one of the largest activities in West View High School. It is the May Festival. Early in the year, the Senior class nominated seven girls, from which four were voted to the honor of being the four graces. At the May Festival, the May Queen was crowned and a court, composed of thirty of the highest patron-sellers and their escorts, performed for the queen. It was Joan Hartstein, the May Day chairman, who kept the performance running smoothly. She planned and arranged the whole program, keeping track of approximately sixty people and seeing that each one of them did the proper thing. Also there to guide and advise Joan, were Miss Rucker and Mr. Herman. Many thanks to all who helped to make this May Festival another successful accomplishment of the Westvian Staff.

At the end of each school term, it has been the policy in past years of the Yearbook to hold a picnic at North Park for its staff to climax a year's work well done. There is a rivalry between the business and editorial staffs as to the more competent ball players which has to be settled each year at this gathering. There is always food and fun for all.

Under the guidance of our sponsors, Mr. Herman and Mr. Puchta, the Westvian Staff has turned out a yearbook of which every student can be proud. In the years to come as we leaf through the pages of the 1952 Westvian, we shall be able to recall again and again the many fond memories of our high school days.

WEST WIND

scores the tallies

"Is this the West Wind?" "Why it's so different!" "Isn't the new West Wind just out of this world?"

West View's school newspaper had certainly changed its appearance. The column titles and silhouettes were all based on our mascot, the Indian. Feathery Finery gave us the latest in fashions, Tribal Twosomes kept us posted on the new flames, Indian Chants was the first item read by loyal band members, and Teepee Talk was the title given the sports section.

That wasn't all of the changes. The West Wind was published once every three weeks instead of monthly. The print was also different. It was typed printing. Many more pictures also appeared in the paper.

All these changes were led by our competent Editor-in-Chief Carol Gallwits and her assistant Lynn Jones. To help them along the tough spots were Connie Bees and Anna May Koerbel, the News Editors; Elaine Blind and Lois Smith, Features Editors; Roy Williams, Sports Editor; Lois Elliott, Circulation Editor; Mary Heim, Business Editor; Marian Smola, Typing Editor; Ruth Schodde, Photography Editor; and Denny Murphey, Art Editor. Miss Delp, the Literary Sponsor and Miss Rucker, the Business Sponsor did an outstanding job.

The last page of the West Wind was devoted to the Junior High School. It was called the West Zephyr. Through this medium, the eighth and ninth graders were posted on the current fashions, romances and sports. The editors on this part of the paper were Jane Harris and Sonya Mugnani. Their sponsor was Mrs. Zeiler.

LIBRARY CLUB

one for the books

"Where can I find something on the life of Einstein?" "How much do I owe on this book?"

These and many other questions could be heard in the library from 8:00 A. M. to 3:30 P. M. Monday through Friday. There to supply your needs were the well-trained members of the Library Club. Besides checking the books in and out, they mended the torn books, checked the shelves, and decorated the bulletin boards. Miss Rea, the capable sponsor, instructed the members in their various jobs.

This year to keep the club running smoothly in high gear, were the president, Marilyn Quigley; vice-president, Elaine Blind; secretary, Irene Grieser; and the treasurer, Joanne Hinkel.

Not everything in this valuable organization was work. There were many good times, especially around Christmas. To keep in the Christmas spirit, the library was decorated with holly and evergreens. In the center of the big room was the Christmas tree sparkling with colored lights and gay decorations.

At the beginning of the school year, the Library Club held initiation for the new members. The library was cleaned and the magazines were put in order. After the hard work, the new members were treated to some appetizing refreshments.

In the spring, the Library Club held its annual banquet. The students at West View High are proud of their library and thankful to the student librarians for their effort and admirable job.

SPEECH CLUB

play by play description

No matter how low our fortunes droop, fair skies always seem to prevail when our Speech Club is in action. Of course, this isn't all a mere matter of chance. The members of the Speech Club have learned that even the most gifted orators must work and practice diligently. However, the club's sponsors, Miss Morris and Mr. Metz, seem to know how to make this a pleasant chore, for each year many new members swell the ranks of the organization, one of West View's oldest and most popular clubs.

The members in Speech Club that earn twenty or more points are eligible for membership in the National Forensic League.

There are four degrees that can be earned in the National Forensic League. For twenty points the Degree of Merit is awarded, for fifty points the Degree of Honor, for one hundred points the Degree of Excellence, and for two hundred points the Degree of Distinction.

During the summer of 1951, Carl Hanks and Paula Schwemm participated in the National Finals held at George Pepperline College in Los Angeles, California. They earned this privilege by winning in the state finals in extemporaneous speaking and humorous declamation. Paula placed sixth in the nation at these contests.

This trip was another demonstration of the wonderful co-operative spirit of West View citizens. The trip was possible because they sponsored it.

Although the members of Speech Club work hard, their chief goal isn't personal glory. Most of them are motivated by a fervent desire to bestow further fame and honor on their Alma Mater.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

cops more trophies

Leading the many activities at West View is the National Forensic League. The members have continually brought fame and honor to our high school by coming out on top in many contests. Mr. Metz and Miss Morris deserve a lot of credit for guiding the students to victory. Miss Morris is District Chairman of speech contests.

The leaders of National Forensic League are Carl Hanks, president; Harry Pople, vice-president; and Bill Wright, treasurer.

To become a member of the National Forensic League a student must have twenty points in any type of speech work. After becoming a member there are four degrees which can be earned; the Degree of Merit, the Degree of Honor, the Degree of Excellence, and the Degree of Distinction.

Art Tritsch, one of the outstanding members, was elected Speaker of the Washington House at the Ambridge Student Congress. Carl Hanks, another very talented member, was elected Speaker of the House at the Charleroi Student Congress. Both these boys won second place in the election for the State Congress. Bill Wright placed in the finals in the District Tournament at Sacred Heart.

The student body at West View is proud of these boys and the many other members who make our school a leader among the surrounding schools in speech work. Hats off to our National Forensic League.

HI-Y

promotes faith; win or lose

"To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character," that is the purpose of the Hi-Y. This year the fellows have done an excellent job of living up to this purpose.

Hi-Y, to the West View boys, means more than just a club. It is a place where all are welcome and able to serve their friends. The job they do may not be widely praised — like selling candy at a football game — but without their work and co-operation the football games would not be run so smoothly. Hi-Y gives the members a feeling of belonging to something worthwhile. The membership is so large, it has proven Hi-Y to be the most popular organization in the school.

Rain or shine, every Wednesday night the boys attended the meetings held in the school library. Impressive devotional services were held at the beginning of each meeting. The program varied with many educational and entertaining movies and lectures.

The Hi-Y is noted for its outstanding activities and socials. Very often the Y-Teen was invited to enjoy the fun.

The morning devotions and the special chapel services at Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter were conducted by the Hi-Y. The Senior Breakfast for boys and the Father and Son Banquet were annual events which highlighted the year. In the fall the boys were formally recognized as members of the Hi-Y at an impressive induction ceremony.

The governing body was the efficient cabinet which consisted of the president, Bob Stoker; vice-president, Carl Hanks; secretary, Dominick Palmieri; treasurer, Barry Powell; chaplain, Howard Womsley; and heads of the various committees. Mr. Craig, the sponsor, helped these hard working fellows to have a lot of fun and make this year's Hi-Y the most successful.

serves us at half time

Y-Teen! Y-Teen! Y-Teen! This was the cry that echoed through the halls of West View for the first few weeks of school. Already Yvonne Schalek, president; Mrs. Craig, sponsor; and the cabinet had begun work on the plans for the year.

In October an impressive candlelight service was held to welcome the new and old members. At this meeting the officers were given special recognition.

Selling refreshments at the football games helped the financial status of the club, and every girl thought it fun.

As the year progressed the meetings proved to be great successes. The programs varied with speakers, movies, and service projects. They also had many socials with the Hi-Y. This added more good fellowship and entertainment.

The Y-Teen held the annual Senior

Breakfast for the senior girls in the spring. The undergraduates served while the girls enjoyed a delicious breakfast.

To wind up the year two big projects got underway.

The trip to Cook's Forest was looked forward to by both the Y-Teen and Hi-Y. Everyone got out his boots, walking cane, and sleeping bag for a weekend of camping.

In the spring the Y-Teen sponsored a carnival on the lots behind the school. There were many booths and a street dance. It turned out to be a huge success. The proceeds from the carnival set up a full treasury for the following year.

Y-Teen is one of the most popular organizations in the school. This year the members have made a better club and upheld its high standards.

CHEERLEADERS

unite the spirited crowd

Go! Team! Go! This was one of the battle cries that urged West View teams on to victory. The cheers this past season were led by seven spirited varsity cheerleaders.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Caruso, the cheerleaders have shown a very successful year. During the summer months they practiced regularly. Marie Strupek was their peppy and capable captain.

This year West View found an entirely different group of cheerleaders. The number of cheerleaders was cut from twelve to seven. Their style of cheering was also changed. They used different arm motions, leg positions, and new jumps. The cheers were short "fight" cheers that have a lot of "punch." Band cheers were used extensively and proved to be a hit with the students. To help promote more enthusiasm among the students, the cheerleaders, with the assistance of the band and Pep Club, sponsored many successful pep meetings.

New uniforms accented our cheerleaders this year. Corduroy jumpers served as two separate outfits. During football season, they wore big white wooly sweaters over top. While for basketball season, the girls wore white sport blouses under their jumpers. Either way the cheerleaders made an attractive appearance.

Our cheerleaders have made many improvements this year. With every girl's co-operation they have set a new standard for the coming years.

PEP CLUB

bolsters the school spirit

The Pep Club has created a school spirit that was really tops this year. They have truly lived up to their name. The West View teams were well backed by the cheering students that drove them on to victory.

During football season the club gaily decorated the auditorium with red and yellow crepe paper to lend spirit to the pep assemblies. Miniature paper footballs, majorette boots, and cheerleader megaphones adorned the walls and "Fight!" posters were hung in the halls to urge the players on to a successful sport season. For every football game the Pep Club and cheerleaders planned a pep rally. They gave out red and yellow beanies with our mascot, the Indian, on them.

Members of the Pep Club collected the tickets for the football games, basketball games, and the wrestling matches. This year after football season they sponsored a "Football Dance" in honor of the players.

The leaders responsible for such an outstanding job were: Yvonne Schalek, president; Elaine Blind, vice-president; Marianne Atwell, secretary; and Bruno Solari, treasurer. However, the club's success was also due to the ardent committee heads. They were: Vivian Weber, business manager; Nedra Walford, decoration committee; Diane Novak, ticket committee; Roy Williams, publicity committee; Ila Windle, typing committee; Bill Marra, entertainment committee. Miss Rucker and Mr. Martorelli were the club's helpful sponsors.

Since the Pep Club was organized a few years ago, it has made terrific progress in promoting good school spirit among the students and faculty. West View has benefited greatly from the club, and students are proud to be members.

LATIN CLUB

I came, I saw, I conquered

The first meeting of the West View Chapter of the Junior Classical League was held in September, soon after school started. The Latin Club was composed of students from first and second year Latin classes. There were also a few students who were taking third and fourth year Latin.

The Club met after school or in the evenings twice a month, usually on Tuesday. The meetings were called to order by the consuls. Devotions were conducted by the Pontifex Maximus, or High Priest. Both the Lord's Prayer and the flag salute were said in Latin. Following the devotions they often sang Latin songs. The program coincided with the various seasons. At Christmas time they sang carols in Latin in an assembly. The meetings were adjourned by the reading of the Pledge of the Jr. Classical League.

Field trips were often high spots of the year. One trip was to Pittsburgh to see the motion picture "Quo Vadis." The movie was about the ancient rulers of Rome, and so fitted in with what the Latin students were studying.

Every year, in February, the students celebrate Latin Week. This year they went to the Buhl Planetarium to see a sky show and many exhibits. Many of the West View Latin students entered projects to be put on exhibition.

In the spring the annual Roman Banquet was held. These and many other activities made this year's club successful. Under the guidance of the Latin teacher and sponsor, Miss Della Vance, the club functioned smoothly.

GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

rough and tumble

Even our very feminine girls at West View saw the need for sports to build a well-rounded personality. To meet the great demand created by the energetic girls we had the well-known G. A. A. The girls were not as fortunate as the boys to be able to play in inter-scholastic games. Therefore, they played intra-mural games. Each girl in the G. A. A. hoped that she would receive the rose and gold G. A. A. letter to wear on her sweater or jacket. A girl must have earned fifty points to be awarded the G. A. A. letter. Points were given for attendance, games played, and games won.

All during the year the girls eagerly waited for the big day when the women faculty members played the outstanding athletes in G. A. A. in volley ball. This year the girls won 52-41.

Usually the G. A. A. was divided into two parts; the senior high and junior high. This year they were combined because many games that they played required more participants than were in the senior high of G. A. A. Among the sports and games they played were basketball, volley ball, softball, soccer, mush ball, and deck tennis, depending on the season. Basketball was the favorite sport of the G. A. A. members.

This valuable organization taught the girls team work and fair play. They also learned good sportsmanship and good fellowship. The girls became better acquainted with their classmates and enjoyed every contest.

Miss Aiken was the very capable sponsor. She willingly stayed after school to supervise and coach the games.

The Girls Athletic Association has shown an outstanding and successful year.

HALL PATROL

keeps us in bounds

We students at West View High usually pride ourselves on being able to stand up for our rights, but there is one group that pushed us around and made us like it. This group was known as the Hall Patrol.

Don't get the idea that we enjoyed having our freedom curtailed; that's not the way we looked at it. Those students on the Hall Patrol served the same purpose as a traffic officer or a red light on the corner. They tried to protect us from head-on collisions with other students. Their duty was to keep the halls in order by preventing students from wandering from one side to the other or stopping at lockers between classes.

Some of the hardest working girls and boys in senior high were members of the Hall Patrol. Evidence of their capability was shown during the lunch periods. Every Hall Patrol member had to be on his post and ready to keep the hungry students from dashing to the cafeteria. The next job was to keep students from going to their lockers until the period was over. The halls had to be kept quiet because there were many classes in session.

The Hall Patrol members, together with Mr. Craig, their sponsor, and Chuck Beck, the Secretary of Traffic, participated in an activity which consumed much time throughout the year and for which too little credit was given.

West View bestows the rose and gold armband on them not as a symbol of authority, but as a badge of merit for service and a job well done.

STAGE and PROJECTION CREW

prepares the equipment

Did you ever stop to think about all the work and time that goes into putting on an assembly? Most of the student body never saw or realized the work that went on behind the scenes or curtain. You just sat back and enjoyed whatever was on the program. That was what you were supposed to do. The Stage Crew did their job so efficiently that there was no disturbance or interruption during the programs.

The captain of this dependable team was Ron Eaton. The head of the crew is always the vice-president of the school. This diligent crew of workers was under the sponsorship of Mr. Metz. Mr. Metz trained the boys so that they were well-acquainted with every prop used for various kinds of scenes.

The boys did not get a part of being seen in the assemblies for they were the men behind the scenes. They set up the equipment for the assemblies, and after everyone had enjoyed the program and left, it is these boys who stayed and did the job of cleaning up. The more effective programs required the boys' knowledge of operating the lights and curtain. The boys also put in extra hours for outside activities.

The Junior and Senior Class plays required the most work of the Stage Crew. There were scenes to be changed and special lighting effects.

The services of the Stage Crew were volunteered unselfishly. These handy boys did an excellent job to make the assemblies and other activities enjoyable.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS of AMERICA

constantly prepares to score

Within the past few years the West View chapter of the F. H. A. has been growing. The girls met every Monday during activity period. Membership was open to all girls that were interested in Home Economics and would live up to the creed and purposes.

Miss Munden, an industrious and capable leader, sponsored the F. H. A. She instructed the girls in their various projects and gave much-appreciated advice.

National, state, and county conventions and conferences gave the girls an opportunity to exhibit their skills in all fields of Home Economics. Elaine Blind was elected to represent the West View chapter at the city council.

The officers of this year's F. H. A. were: president, Nedra Walford; vice-president, Virginia Hartman; secretary, Shirley Winter; treasurer, Mary Jane Catanzaro.

During the past summer Nedra Walford attended a conference at Michigan State College for a week. She brought back many new and interesting ideas for projects. The trip proved to be very profitable to the organization.

A group of girls was sent to the annual State Farm Show in Harrisburg. There the girls displayed exhibits of things that they had made and written. They also presented demonstrations. The exhibits were eligible for prizes.

All over the state the F. H. A. operated as a Junior Red Cross Council every fourth meeting of the month. The girls were given an opportunity to help the veterans and underprivileged children through this plan.

The motto of the F. H. A. was "Toward New Horizons." All the members tried to live up to the motto by living better today for tomorrow.

GIRLS BOWLING CLUB

in the minor leagues

"Nice looking bowlers in the photograph below. Don't you agree?"

We were proud of our "Duck-Pin" bowling club of West View High this past year. Miss Rucker, the "king-pin", and organizer, again, proved to be a very fine leader.

Many wonderful memories will prevail of the Monday evening get-togethers. First of course, some lively bowling, and afterwards refreshments, dances, entertainment, and general all-round good fun.

The Christmas party, which was held after a regular evening of bowling, was a festive occasion of the season. Refreshments perked up the hungry and weary players and several rounds of dancing followed. A Christmas Party without presents just wouldn't be! A grab bag was the high spot of the evening.

The club this year numbered thirty-five girls. There were five teams of seven girls and each team played two games.

To keep the business end of the club running smoothly were president, Vivian Weber and treasurer, Nancy Jones. Viv figured out all the scores and averages of the girls. Nancy was kept busy collecting dues.

The annual bowling banquet climaxed the season. Prizes were given to the girls who scored the highest. The banquet and prizes were paid for by dues of each girl. Instead of paying their dues in one sum, the girls paid so much every week.

The girls received plenty of exercise, and even lost a few pounds which pleased them very much. They also learned how to co-operate and so have more fun.

The friendly competition between the teams aroused so much enthusiasm that we feel certain that the Girls Bowling Club will have a permanent place among the many activities at West View.

MIXED CHORUS

provides the entertainment

West View High School was noted for its fine program of activities. However, one activity, the mixed chorus, has done perhaps more than any other group, to publicize our school and promote outstanding school spirit among the students, faculty, and parents.

A large part of their success was due to their popular and talented director, Miss Alice Conner.

Choosing the chorus members was quite a job in itself. Tryouts, testing sight-reading and voice quality, were held last spring. Those scoring the highest became members of the Mixed Chorus. However, the competition did not end there. For the first time in the history of the West View High Chorus a smaller group was chosen from Mixed Chorus to form a Traveling Choir. The Traveling Choir represented the school on a number of trips to neighboring places, including several district colleges.

As usual, the Mixed Chorus this year had a full schedule. A new cantata, replacing the traditional "Childe Jesus" took place at Christmas time. They also sang Christmas carols in the halls. In the spring an operetta was presented. At the climax of the season was the annual Spring Festival, a presentation of the year's best music.

To try to summarize the achievements of the Mixed Chorus in the year 1951-1952 is needless and would seem like mere repetition of the glories of the preceding years. Its reputation is well established, and its place is secure in all of our hearts.

CHAPEL CHOIR

songbirds of the game

Those beautiful voices you heard at the beginning of every assembly were not the angels from heaven, but could be credited to the Chapel Choir. They were seated in the balcony of the auditorium and the hymns that they sang really sounded as if they were coming from heaven. Under the competent direction of Miss Conner, the Chapel Choir made our assemblies ones of which we could be proud.

The Chapel Choir was made up of the best voices in the Mixed Chorus, mostly upper classmen. The members had to be exceptionally good sight-readers and capable of learning music quickly.

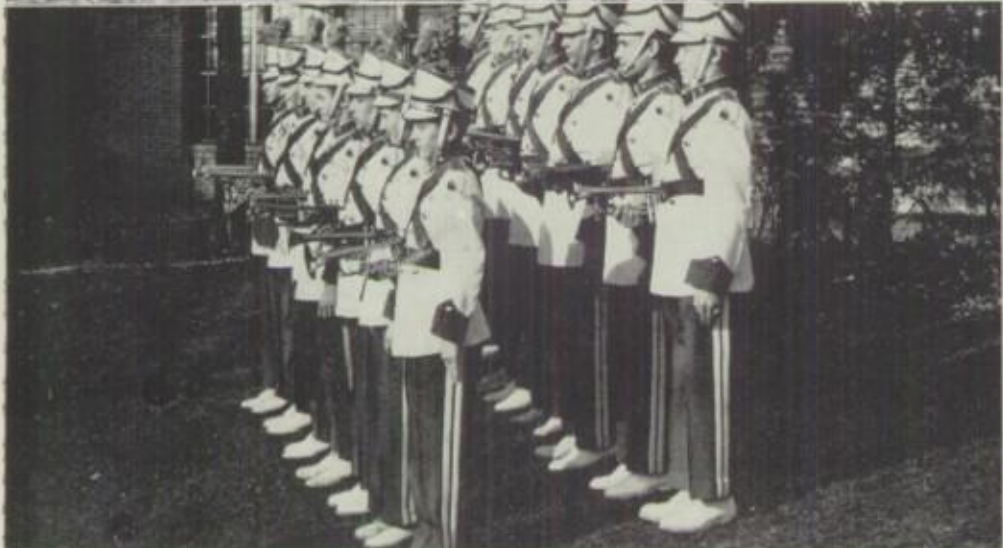

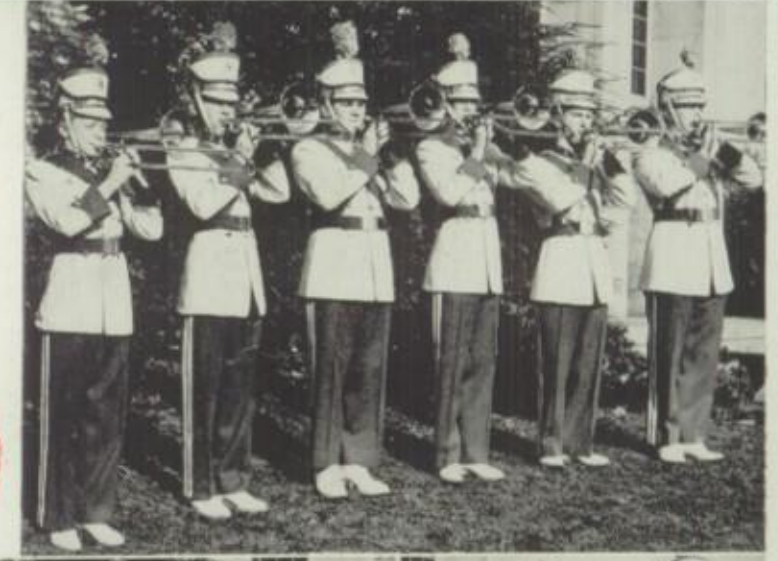

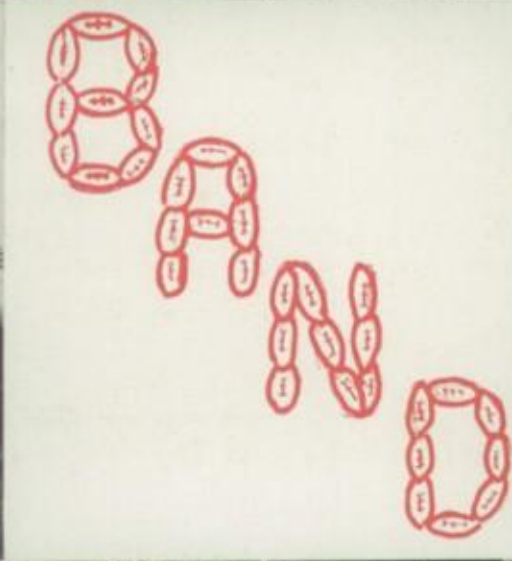

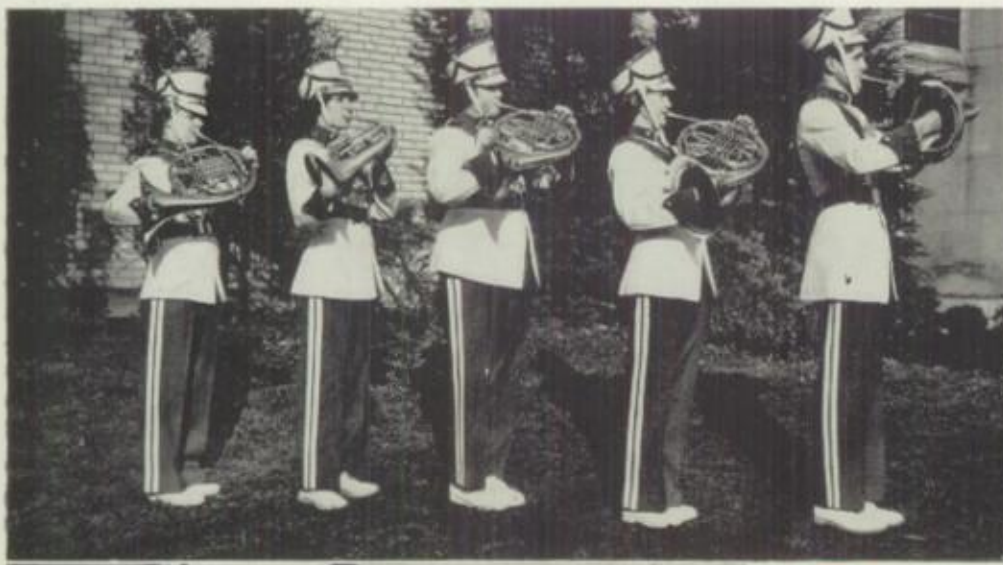

Devotions were always conducted in assemblies. Following the reading of the Bible, the Chapel Choir sang the Lord's Prayer. It made a very impressive ceremony.

From the Chapel Choir the voices that made up the Girls Trio and Octones were chosen. These smaller groups of musical-minded students sang for many outside activities. The Girls Trio consisted of Dodie Fetter, Dolores Scott, and Marie Strupek. The Octones included Connie Bees, Carol Gallwits, Anna May Koerbel, Judy Miller, Jack Shankle, Bob Stoker, Roland Bates, and Richard Kirk.

The Chapel Choir not only sang a cappella but also many anthems with accompaniment. Carol Gallwits and Judy Miller were their talented pianists. Carol also accompanied the Trio.

Many visitors, who have attended the assemblies of West View High, have highly praised the splendid performances of the Chapel Choir. They deserve a lot of credit.

BAND and MAJORETTES
Such things, half time entertainment

Half-time at the football game wouldn't have been quite the same without the high stepping band and majorettes. For every tune-ful song or march that the band played, the line of majorettes made up a snappy dance step or a tricky twirling routine. Each football game was highlighted by a peppy performance. Some of the football fans' favorite routines were the "Charleston," "Wooden Soldiers," and the traditional "Mister Touchdown U. S. A."

A lot of hard work, supervised by Mr. Caruso, was needed for performing such outstanding and original routines. During the summer the band and majorettes went to band camp for a week at Slippery Rock Falls Park. There they spent long hours practicing and drilling.

Before school was out in the spring the band elected the officers for the year 1951-52. They were: president, Chuck Beebee; vice-president, John Derbish; secretary-treasurer, Bob Taylor; librarian, Joan Hartstein. Joan's job was to keep the music in order. She, and the others, did a fine job as the band's leaders.

Harry Morrison was the head major. Following him were Lois Smith, the captain of the majorettes, and Ginny Hartman. The line of majorettes were next in the line-up and then the band itself.

Toward the end of the football season the band and majorettes received new uniforms. Our band had already outshined all others, but now with these smart new uniforms, consisting of red trousers and white jackets, they are assured of being terrific successes wherever they march.

The West View High School Band doesn't limit its activities to the school alone. They march at various parades and occasionally during the year, present band concerts. Our band brings much publicity home too, as is exemplified by the invitation extended to them to march on November 17, 1951 at Forbes Field, for a Steeler's football game.

West View has a band of which she can be, and is, proud to call her own. The West View High School Band has brought fame to the school. The students are proud of our spectacular band.

SHUFFLE SHOP COMMITTEE

provides recreation

Paint, brushes, scissors, and crepe paper — the familiar props of the Shuffle Shop Committee. The committee took charge of planning and decorating for all of the special dances at Shuffle Shop and the job of taking registration at the dance. The job that the hard-working committee members did was not an easy one. Many times they gave up their entire Saturday afternoons to help out when needed. Although the decorating sometimes took from two to five hours, the members always showed up with a diligent and helpful attitude. The committee decorated for a number of special dances including a football dance honoring this year's successful team. For Halloween, Shuffle Shop changed its name to "Spook Shop." Of course, the biggest dance attraction of the year was the ever-popular Christmas Dance with its beautiful Christmas tree. Other dances were, a Valentine Dance, The Pitter Patter Dance and another big favorite, the crowning of the King and Queen of Shuffle Shop.

Under the efficient leadership of Secretary Roy Williams, the dances were all successful and well attended.

Besides decorating, there were the weekly duties of setting up the risers for the band, cleaning the floor, and taking registration every Saturday night. All these tasks were taken care of by the thirty members. Without their help, Shuffle Shop would not have been the smooth, well-run dance it proved to be.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

the brains behind the brawn

Twelve years ago the National Honor Society was introduced to West View students. Since that time a greater spirit of competition and incentive has been aroused by the society. It has spurred many students to improve their scholastic standing and character.

A faculty committee chose the members from the junior and senior classes, who had shown outstanding qualities in leadership, scholarship, character and service. To be eligible one must have ranked in the upper fourth of his class, and maintained a high standing throughout his high school years.

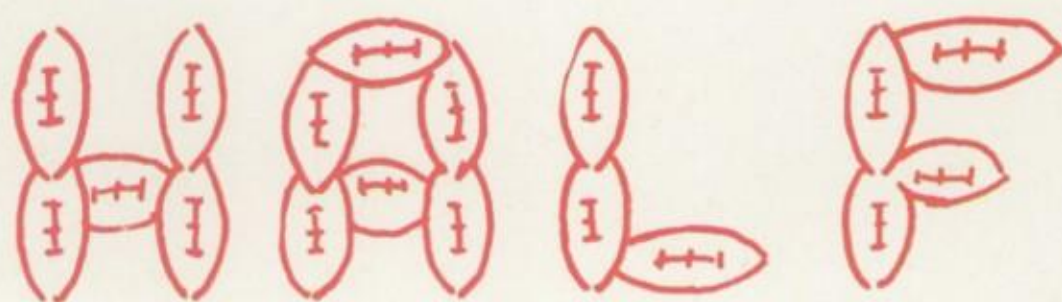

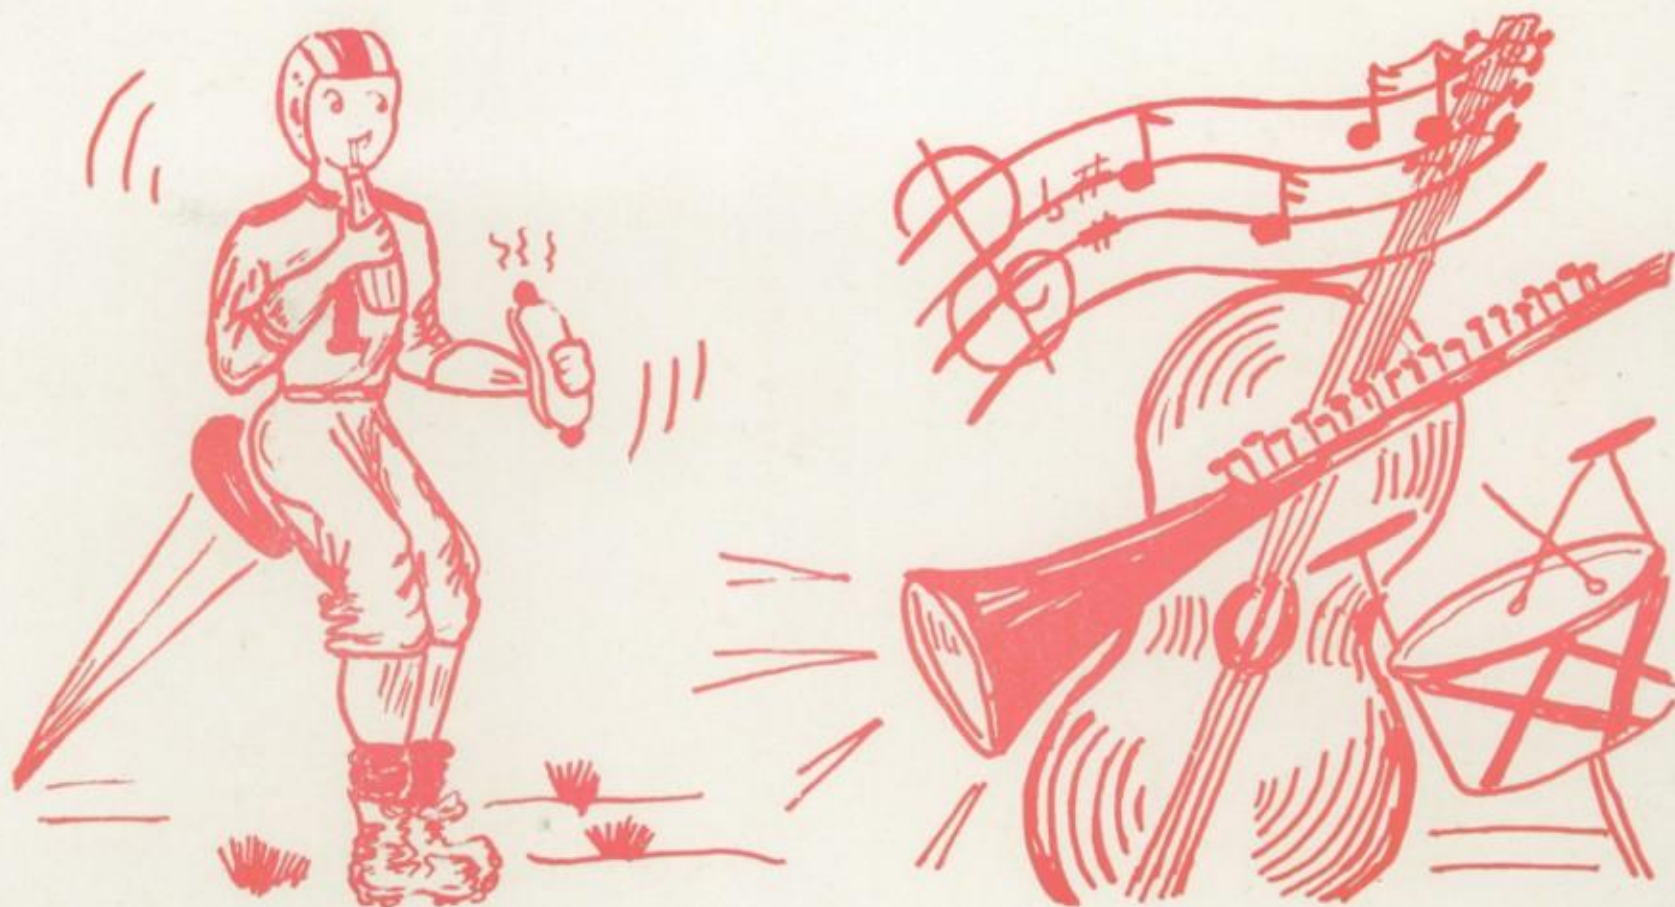

The new members were officially invited to join the society at the annual tapping ceremony that was held in the early spring. They were given yellow ribbons to wear during the day to designate the honor which was bestowed upon them. Then later, they were formally installed at an impressive candlelight service. At this service they were given gold pins symbolizing the light of knowledge. This year eight per cent of the seniors and two per cent of the juniors were members.

Miss McGinnis was the competent sponsor of this organization. She made sure the club functioned properly and enumerated the number of students eligible to join. She deserves a lot of praise for her conscientious work.

This was certainly an organization to which everyone wanted to belong. The students in West View High School were proud of their friends who wore the gold National Honor Society pin this year. They had honorably upheld its virtuous standings, and shall continue to build stronger character.

 Second row — W. Dailey, D. Smith, C. Haines, T. Fugieuele, B. Larson, T. Royston, D. Rethage D. Dailey, R. Williams, J. Burnham, J. De Maria
 Third row — W. Karr, F. Miller, D. Meckler, F. Cuda, M. Mikulas, B. Solari, H. Medsger, F. Flaherty, J. Nichols, J. Cuda, J. Burnham

When the 1951 football season opened, things didn't seem to add up too well. With only four lettermen returning, Coach Martorelli and Coach Guadagnino had a tremendous rebuilding job to do. Nevertheless, with the true W. V. spirit of the boys, the job was completed. The team started its daily practices at its own "dust bowl" and then added the final touches at football camp; the Highland Camp in Edinboro. The squad won seven games and lost two. This has not been bettered by any team at West View.

Frank Nardulli and Don Short co-captained the team this year. Frank was a letterman and did a sparkling job at fullback. He will always be remembered for his dazzling long runs that netted him a total of sixteen touchdowns in his high school career. Don also called the plays for the defensive and offensive teams. Don proved his football spirit when he was moved from quarterback to guard.

Dick Feffer, a letterman too, held down the defensive and offensive left end position.

Dale Kunkel was our other letterman. Dale doubled as fullback in a number of plays in the Shaler game. His running pulled the team out of several bad holes and helped us to win.

Jim Miller, a senior, held down the defensive and offensive guard positions.

Ed Naumann and Reed Vickerman, both Juniors, were first string linemen. Ed's firm fingers over the pigskin made sure that W. V. fumbles were few and far between. Reed played the other defensive and offensive tackle.

Chuck Beck, a junior, was the pass-snagging right end. Chuck played a good defensive end also. Many times he cut down the interference so the back-up could make the tackle.

Ron Eaton, Chuck Rebel, and Ron Nelson rounded out the backfield. Eaton, who could run like the wind, was always throwing timely blocks and making good tackles at his defensive backer up position. Chuck made many of W. V.'s touchdowns possible with his accurate passing arm. Ron Nelson took over the wing-back slot during mid-season.

Other seniors who did not play regularly, but deserve mention are: Ends, Jack Flaherty, Denton Dailey, and Roy Williams. Tackle, Bruno Solari. Guards, Tony Furguiele and John Cuda. Center, Don Rethage. Backs, Chuck Haines and Tom Royston. Tom came through for the team in the Beaver game when he filled in for Eaton, who was injured. John Burnham and Don Smith, both juniors, also backed up the line. John played fullback and Don played left guard. Fay Miller, a junior, kicked the extra points for the Viewers. Fay had a total record of fourteen conversions out of twenty-six attempts for the season.

W. V. played host to Penn Twp. on September 7, for their season opener. The Indians got off to an early lead and surprised everyone by handing Penn High an AA school, a 25 to 6 defeat on four touchdowns and one extra point. The Viewers romped over Avonworth 41 to 12 on six TD's and five extra points. W. V. was still picking up speed. They traveled to Oliver High and trounced Oliver's eleven 39 to 0. The second string came through in the final moments of the game and scored three touchdowns to send Oliver home with spinning heads and another loss. The Indians then returned home and played a hard fought game with their first Class A rival, Beaver High School. Nelson intercepted a pass and turned in a 98 yard run to tie the game 13 to 13 late in the fourth quarter. Smith then intercepted a lateral and ran 55 yards for a T. D. to put W. V. in front by a score of 20 to 13 over a powerful Beaver eleven.

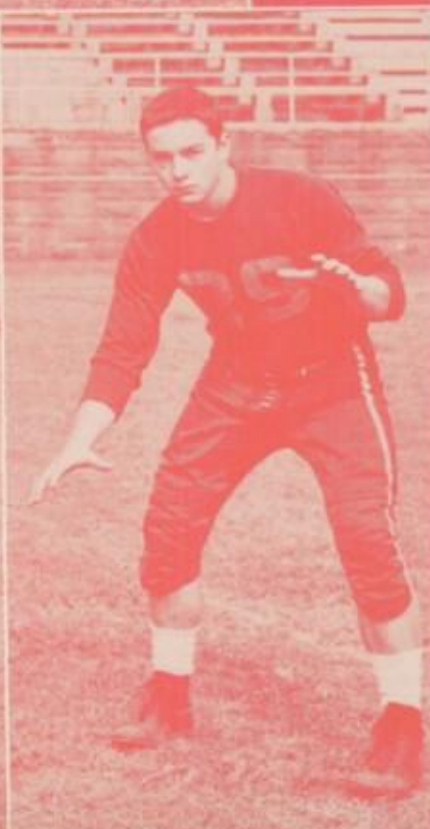

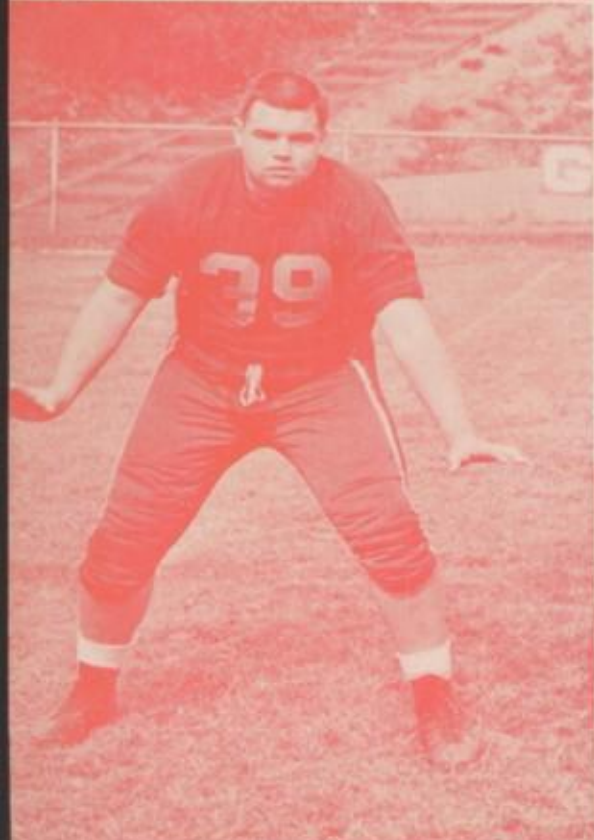

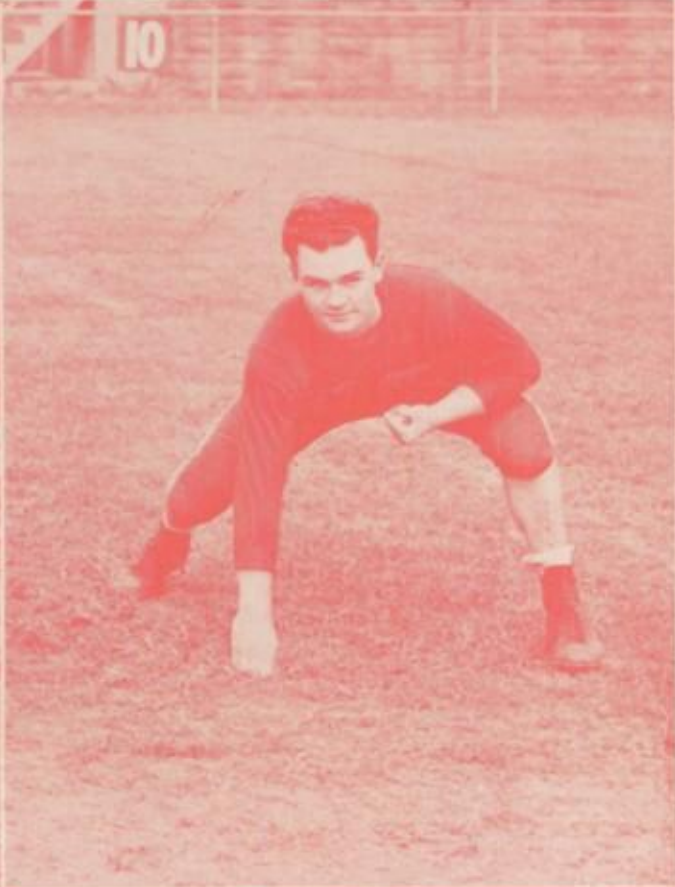

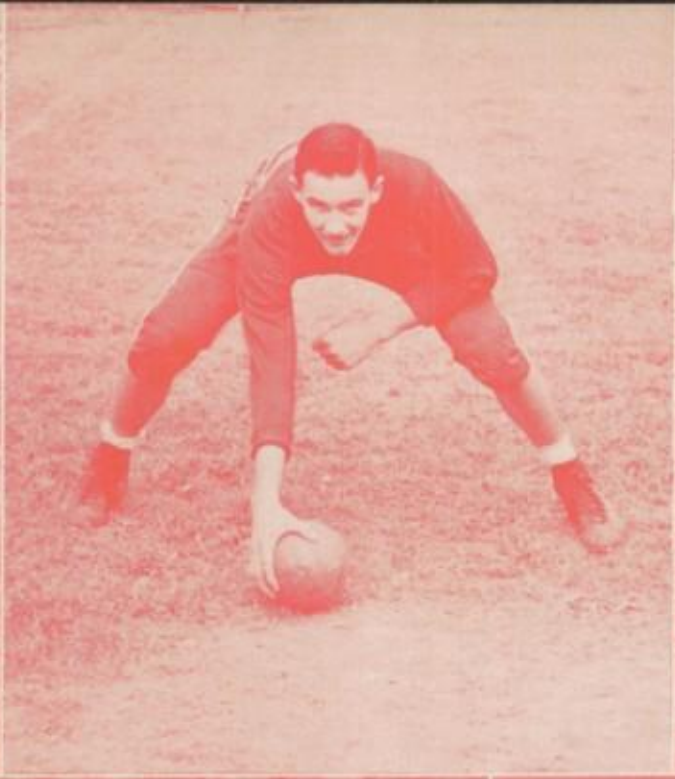

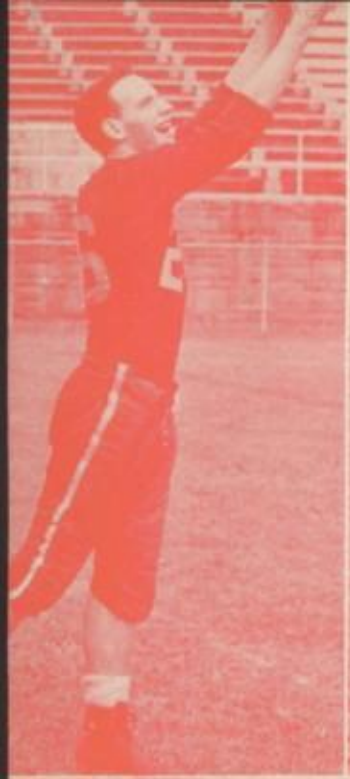

The following week our school's eleven traveled to Bellevue for the annual rivalry. W. V. eked out a 13 to 12 win on Fay Miller's successful extra point in the fourth quarter.

The braves came back home the following week for their toughest game of the season against McKees Rocks, a strong contender for Class A honors. McKees Rocks snapped W. V.'s winning streak of five games after scoring quickly in the first quarter. At their last home game, they came back to defeat Shaler 20 to 7 on three touchdowns and one extra point. The Rose and Gold then traveled to far off Hurst High. Hurst defeated W. V. 12 to 6. Bad breaks for the team turned the tables against them and they went down to defeat at the hands of a spirited Hurst eleven. Again W. V. came back. They traveled to Clark High and chalked up number seven after a cold and wet game on a sloppy, snow covered field. This proved that Coach Martorelli and Coach Guadagnino had succeeded this year.

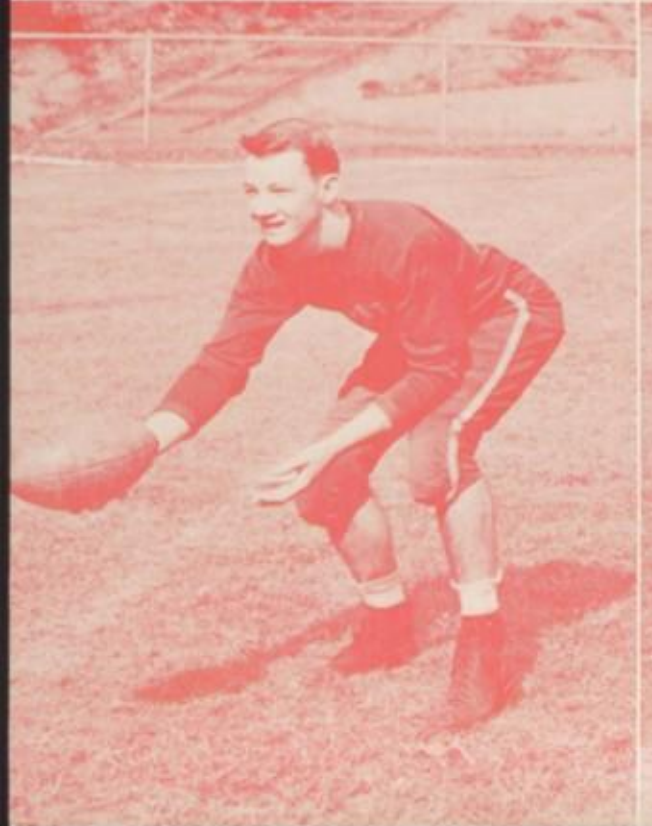

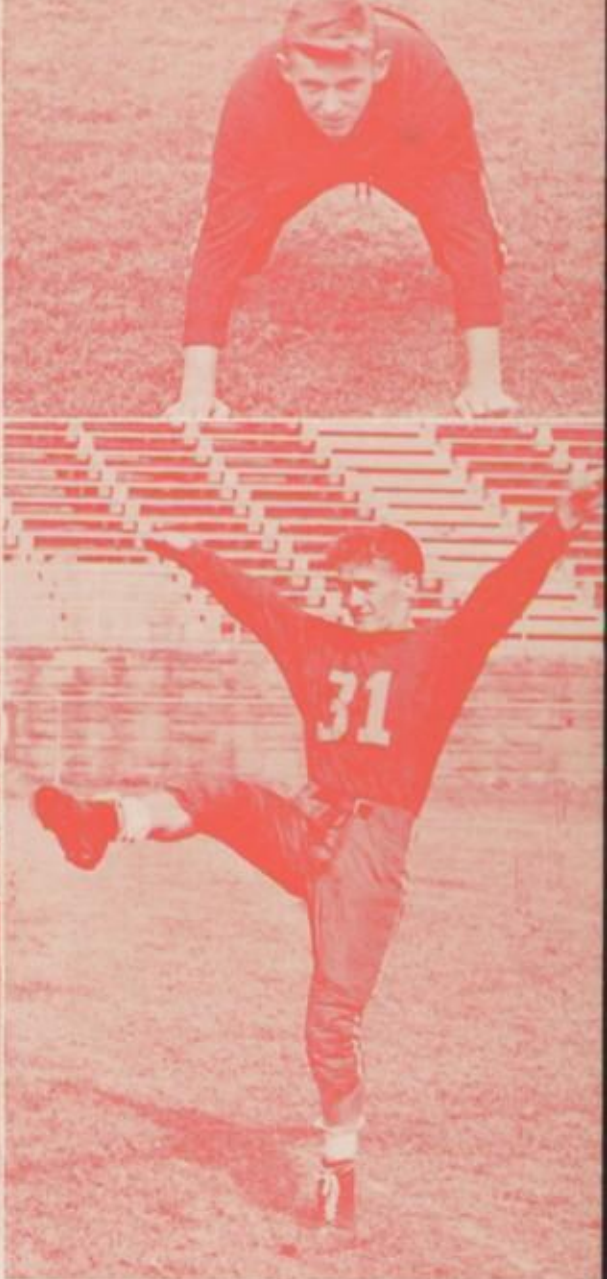

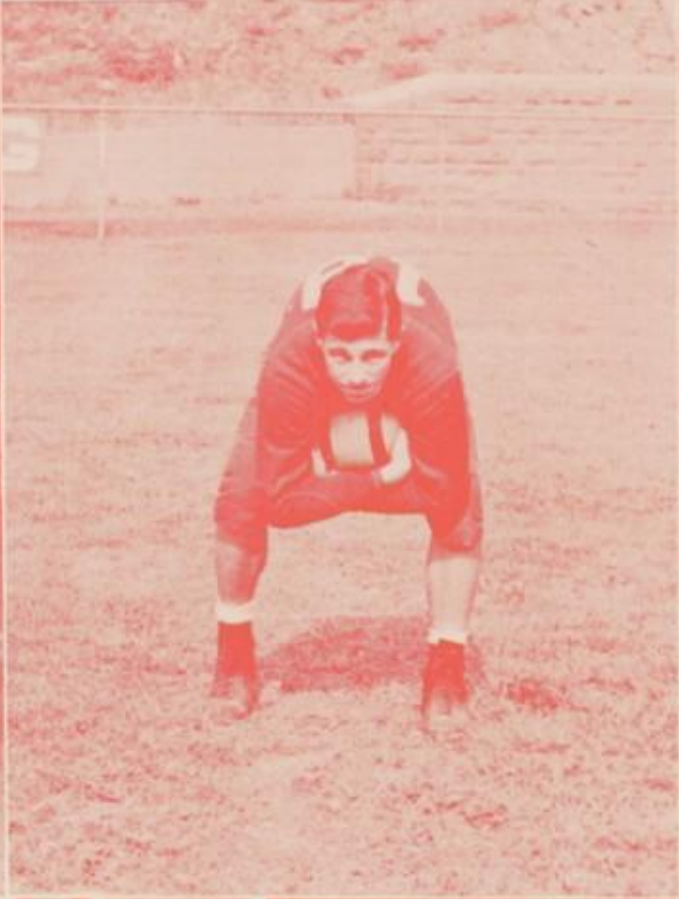

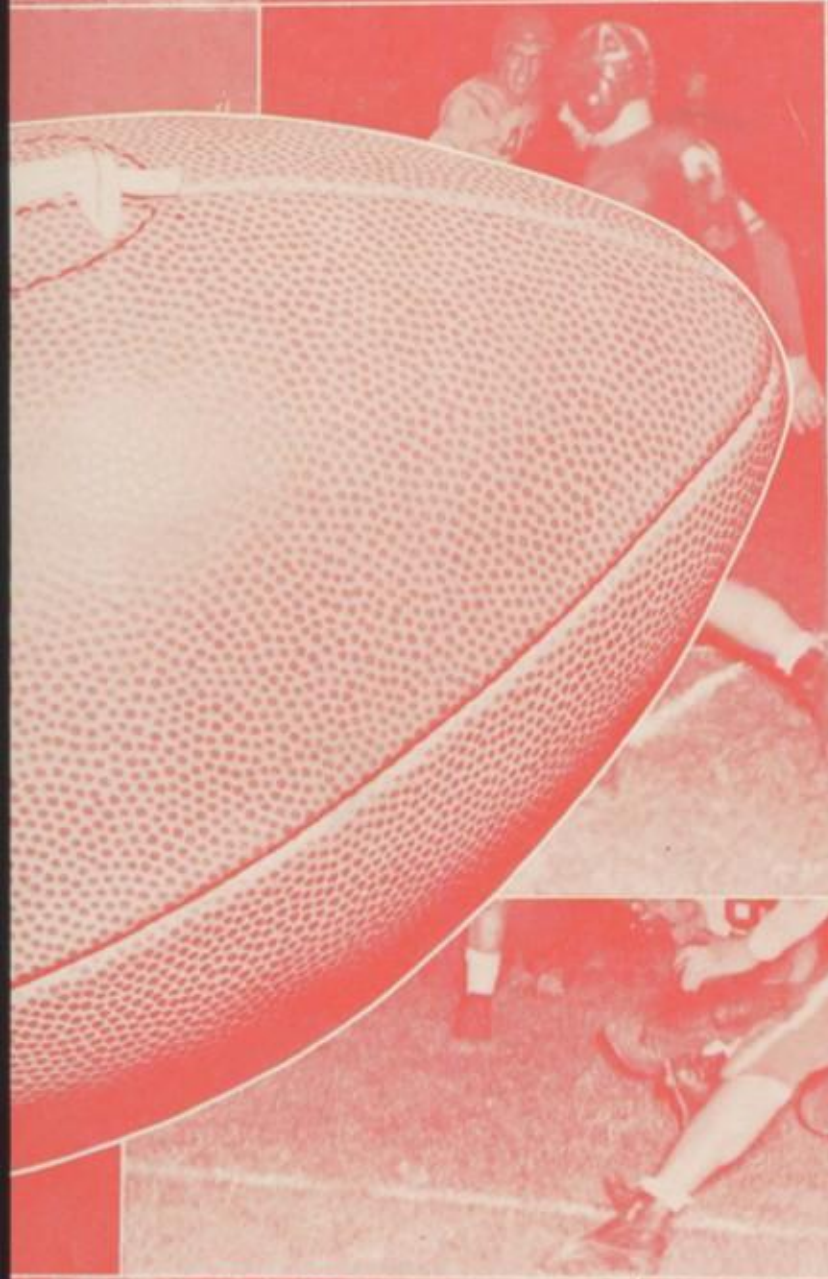

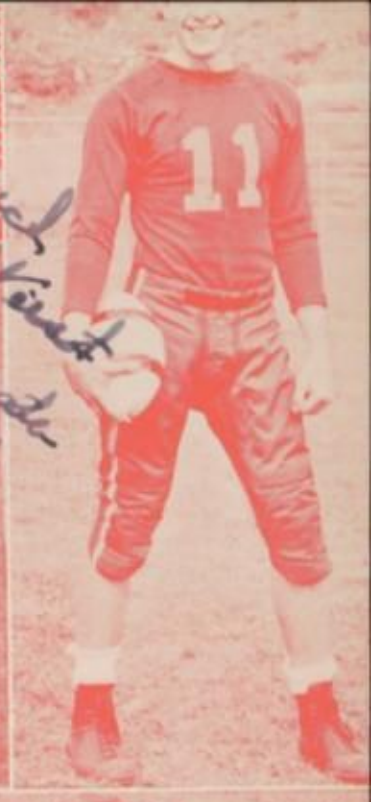

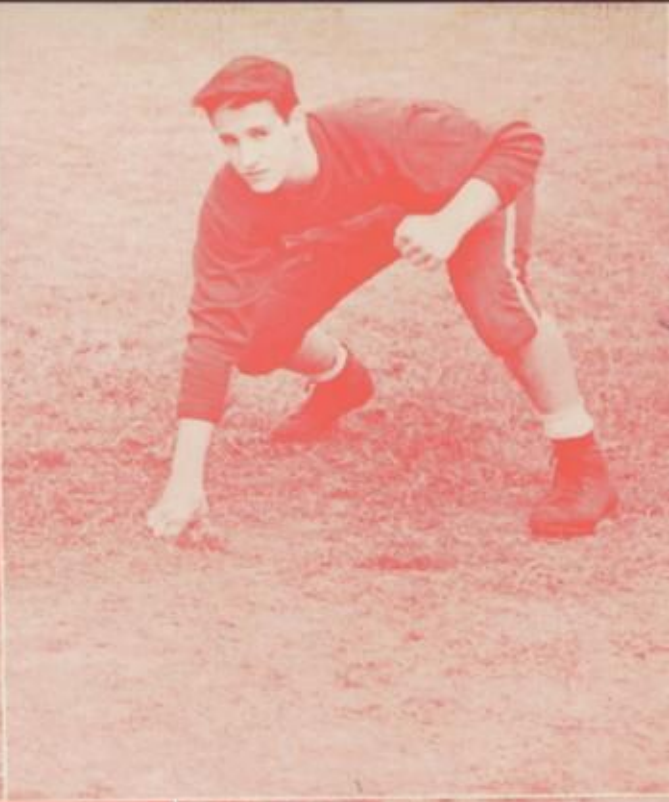

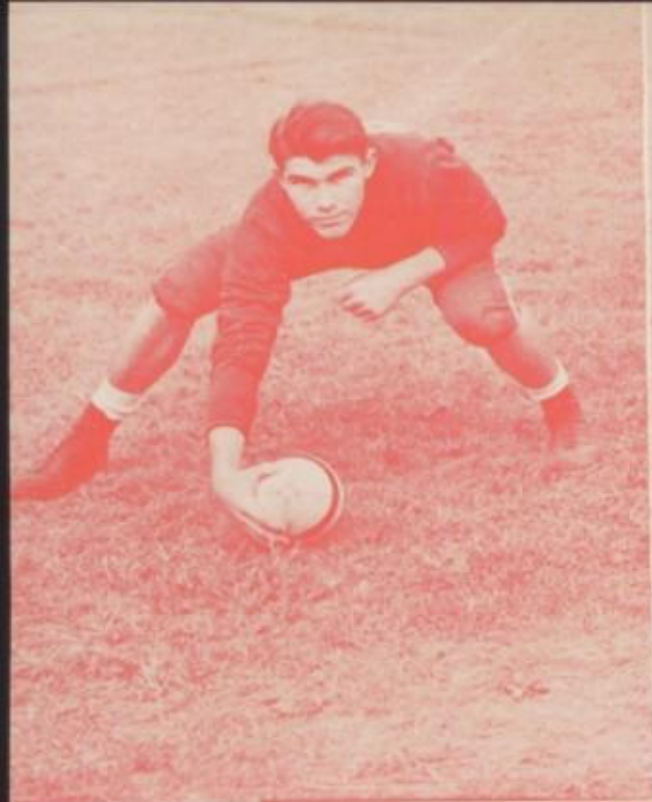

Yes, the football squad of 1951 deserves a hearty "well done." The coaches, the managers, and the boys built a team from four lettermen and a group of game and spirited boys of which W. V. could be proud. A team with a season's record unequalled by any team at W. V., seven wins and two losses.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Second row — Mr. Martorelli, F. Nardulli, D. Schuker, B. Brautigam, S. Garvin, C. Beck, W. Karr

He drives in, lays it up, scores!!! That was the familiar cry that rang through the gym a week after football season ended. This time basketball moved into the spotlight. At the start of the season the squad had fewer returning regulars than did the football team. This year, Mr. Martorelli didn't have a letterman back from last year's squad, to help him in the reconstruction of a new team.

West View's quintet opened their 1951-52 season with eight exhibition games. They started their regular season of play in Section IX on January 4, 1952. The entire squad used these eight games to best advantage as they put the finishing touches on their defensive and offensive strategy and corrected the flaws in their shooting accuracy. With wins over the Faculty, Avonworth, Bellevue, and Aspinwall, and losses to North Catholic, Brentwood, Avonworth, and Washington, the Indians entered their bid in the competition for section honors.

West View's basketball five started the season off with 2 wins. One was over Coraopolis, 58-50. and the other over the Crafton quintet, 67-56. The Indians then traveled to Rox High, whose team was the only real threat to W. V.'s supremacy in Section IX. The Rox were at home and W. V. just couldn't get used to the big floor at McKees Rocks, as they went down to defeat 61-53. The Braves then caught fire and burned up the league as they won eleven straight contests. One of these wins was a thrilling 56 to 55 win over the Rox. The game was played on W. V.'s floor, but W. V. was definitely under pressure because they had to win in order to stay in the sectional race. Play seesawed back and forth up to the very last minute until Barry ripped the cords with a beautiful one hand jump shot that put W. V. and Rox High in a deadlock for the section title.

Because W. V. and the Rox were tied for the section lead with 13 and 1 records, a play-off game was necessary. Both teams carried their hopes for the section title, on February 22, to the newly constructed Pitt Field House.

The game was a touch and go contest all the way, but the Roxmen came through with a field goal in the final seconds of the game to edge out W. V. 49 to 48 after W. V. had held the lead the majority of the game.

This year the weight of the rebounding work was carried on the shoulders of Sam Garvin and Barry Brautigam. Sam, a senior, was a dead shot with his one hand push shot from the outside. "Smiley" used his rebounding ability and his shooting accuracy to put together a total of 224 points. Barry, a promising 6' 5" junior, was a real menace under either basket when he spread-eagled for those rebounds. Barry's turn around jump shot never seemed to miss as he dumped in a total of 421 points. This was a new record for individual scoring at W. V. Frank Nardulli, Whitey Rebel, and Ron Nelson took up the positions out front. Although Frank was small in height, he was always in there scrapping when it came to scrambling for those rebounds. Frank did his share in scoring, too, as he ran up a total of 224 points. Whitey Rebel chased on defense. Whitey was a dead shot from any where on the floor and proved it by ranking second in individual scoring with 293 points. Ron Nelson was an excellent passer and the playmaker of the team. Ron seldom shot, but when he did they were sure to go in. Ron added a total of 126 points to the team's grand total of 1,438 points. This number of points was well over any that any previous teams at W. V. had scored and set a new record for team scoring in one season.

Other boys on the squad were: seniors, Don Shuker and Denton Dailey. Don was a rough boy under the boards when he started to put his six foot two inch frame to use. "Mumbo" was famous for driving hard on his lay up shots. Al Urich and Don Smith, both juniors, were also kept in reserve and came through when they were called upon. Other juniors on the team were Bob Larson, Chuck Beck, and Ron Eaton.

In addition to being "almost" champs of Section Nine the team put some new figures in the record books. The team passed up the previous records of team scoring of 1,100 points and the individual scoring record of 321 points with Barry's 421. The team also won seventeen games, which surpassed the previous mark of 13. They also scored more points in one game when they defeated W. Allegheny 90 to 61.

Although the squad didn't win the section, congratulations and honors are in line for Mr. Martorelli and the entire team. As usual, with Mr. Martorelli's expert coaching and the true co-operative and fighting spirit of the team, a team was put together that every student of West View High School can be proud of. To Mr. Martorelli and the entire 1951-52 team, here's a hearty "Well done" for a most successful season. We certainly hope that next year's team will have as much success as did this year's team and we wish them the best of luck.

SECTION NINE SECTIONAL PLAYOFF

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

First row — D. Duncart, B. Kummer, K. Beall, J. Nardulli
Second row — C. Zeig, B. Slemmer, J. Seybert, E. Huber, R. Weinzettl, R. Schmitz, A. Wespy

West View's Junior Varsity, under the direction of Mr. Hare, showed that they too had a good team. They completed the season with a commendable record of thirteen wins in their twenty-one contests. The J. V. scored a total of 956 points in twenty-one games to give them an average of 45.5 points a game, compared to their opponents 900 points, an average of 42.9 points to a game.

The J. V. squad was made up of fourteen sophomore boys. Out of the fourteen, eight of them earned their J. V. letter. In order to receive a letter, a boy had to play at least half of the quarters. J. Mattys and E. Huber were the two boys who played under the basket. It was very seldom that one of these two boys didn't get the rebounds. D. Duncan, K. Beall, B. Kummer, and J. Nardulli brought the ball down the floor and were the play makers for the team. T. Bowser, and B. Weinzettl were kept on reserve, but proved valuable when they were needed. Other members of the team were: J. Seybert, B. Fritz, B. Slemmer, B. Schmitz, B. Randolph, and P. Bassett. J. Mattys was the high scorer for the J. V., with a total of 270 points and an average of 13.5 points a game.

Championship teams are made on the basis of how well they can shoot, rebound, and maintain fighting spirit. These things can only be accomplished by experience. That is what these boys are doing, so when they reach the Varsity they will be able to play a better game. It gives the boys the experience of hard competitive games and gives them an idea of what is in store for them when they reach the Varsity. If these players continue to improve and play the kind of ball they are capable of playing, West View is bound to have a winning team in the future.

WRESTLING

First row — T. Guiana, F. Miller, F. Reibie, A. Furguele, T. Tubridy, W. George, R. Rohrberg, E. Richert, G. Rook, T. Moore
Second row — Mr. Smith, J. Cuda, E. Conrad, D. Rethage, D. Uhlenburg, R. Vickerman, J. Rafferty, D. Short, J. Roffolo, S. Stockham

As the new year rolled around, West View's mighty mat men began their practice for the coming season. All candidates, ranging from ninth grade to twelfth grade, met with Coach Ivor Smith in the Highland School gymnasium. After a short briefing by the coach, the mats were rolled out and practice began. As the weeks progressed, the team went through the many rigorous training routines, which included jumping rope, calisthenics, practice matches, and running. These helped to build up wind, regulate weight, and improve timing. The fellows could be seen almost every day, running through the streets of West View to improve form and fitness.

At every practice session, Coach Smith was there to lend a helping hand to the newcomers and give additional information to the hold-overs from last year's squad. His advice on various holds was invaluable to the new members as well as the old members of the team.

Although many boys showed up for practice, all of them did not wrestle in the actual matches. The boys that wrestled in the matches were chosen by the process of elimination during tryouts. These tryouts were held just before each match and the winners of the tryouts were the combatants in the matches.

The Indians began the season with a bang by defeating West Allegheny in a breath-taker which ended in a 28-27 score. After losing the next four matches our valiant wrestlers, instead of losing confidence in themselves, regained their strength and overpowered West Allegheny in a rough and tumble 37-20 decision. The Viewers went on to win a decision over Dormont in a close match which ended in a 24-23 score. The team played the role of loser in the last two matches.

In the early part of March, after the regular season was completed, four members of the team were entered in the W.P.I.A.L. district tournaments at Washington, Pennsylvania. The purpose of the district tournament is to determine who will go on to the state tournament and who will not. To become eligible, a boy must have been victorious in five or more of his regular seasonal matches. The four entries from West View were Faye Miller at 127 pounds, Tony Furgiuele, our star senior wrestler at 133 pounds, Leo Tubridy in the 138 pound class, and Fred Reubi at 145 pounds. We wish these fellows luck at the tournament.

The team had its share of injuries this year too. Ed Conrad and Don Rethage both cracked ribs, while Ross Mohler, a freshman, received a broken collar bone during practice.

This squad has been one of West View's better teams in recent seasons and has done much to promote clean sportsmanship among the fellows. Many of the boys will be returning next year and the student body looks forward to a top notch wrestling combination next year, too.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

Second row — Mr. Hare, D. Rohrberg, D. Slemmer, J. Murphey, T. Guina, R. Wilt, P. Bassett, J. Nardulli, V. Rizzo, J. King, Mr. Harper

The varsity was not the only team with a good football record this year. The Junior Varsity had its most successful season also. They ended the season with a total of five wins and only one loss.

The J. V. was composed of boys from the sophomore class only, because the freshmen were playing for the newly organized junior high school team. During the early part of the season the boys worked out with the varsity in the long, hard practices. Then when the varsity was chosen, the sophomore boys in need of a little more training were put on the J. V.

Under the fine coaching of Mr. Hare and Mr. Harper, the boys were taught and drilled on the fundamentals of football. They not only learned how to use them, but also when they should be used.

The J. V. not only showed that they had the best record, but also that they had mastered the fundamentals that they had been taught. The two important things that the Varsity Coaches look for from the J. V. players are good tackling and blocking. These were two outstanding features of the games, showing that they were ready to become future varsity players.

During the season the Braves participated in six games, they won five and lost one. Their wins were over Moon Twp., 7-6, Perry, 33-0, McKees Rocks, 13-0, Shaler Twp., 19-0, Shady Side Academy, 34-7; only losing in a hard fought game to North Catholic 20-14.

The co-captains were Jerry Mattys and Don Randolph, who did outstanding jobs at their positions. Mattys played end and did all the kicking for extra points. He led the team in scoring, with five touchdowns and 13 out of 18 extra points for a total of 43 points. Randolph did a very fine job at defensive and offensive tackle. When there was a tackle to be made or a hole in his side of the line to be opened, Randy was there.

The J. V. not only turned in their best record, but also accomplished their basic purpose in developing a promising crop of future varsity football players.

GOLF

First row — Ervin Armstrong, Mr. Tiffany, Bill Thomas
Second row — Sam Ciocca, John Michaels, Hub Garver, Wilfred Black

"Fore!" was the familiar cry as the 1951 Golf Team walked the fairways to a W.P.I.A.L. championship.

March came and with it, a new golf season. West View's hopeful golfers moved to Highland School for some indoor practice and to work out some of the kinks acquired over the winter. The Indians had a very successful season. They won fourteen matches and lost but one. Ten of these wins were in sectional competition. Three were in the playoffs and one in exhibition. W. V.'s only defeat was supplied at the hands of Shadyside Academy, after W. V. defeated them earlier in the season.

One of the main factors of West View's success was the ability of a team member to come through with a timely victory when one of his team-mates had an off day.

Mr. Tiffany, the team's expert coach, had three holdovers from last year's sectional championship team. They were Hub Garver, Wilfred Black, and Bill Thomas. The two vacant positions were filled by Erv Armstrong and Sam Ciocca, with John Michaels giving valuable assistance as a substitute, when any of the first five were absent.

The team's first match was with Avonworth at Highland Country Club, the Viewer's home course, where the Indians won easily. The team moved through their league schedule without a loss, receiving only one setback, by a non-league team.

After eleven victories and only one loss the Viewers traveled to Butler for their first playoff match. The team met some rough competition from Penn and the match was not decided until Sam Ciocca sunk a long putt on the last green to put West View into the semi-finals. This match was played at Alcoma Country Club with Butler High, where the Indians again came through with a decisive victory, which put the team in the finals.

It was a dark and windy day at Chartiers Country Club, and eight nervous golfers watched while the two captains teed off. It was a battle for every point but the Viewers drove, putted, and chipped their way into another W.P.I.A.L. championship.

Congratulations to a fine golf team, and may the team of 1952 do as well.

1951 BASEBALL

First row — Coach Hartman, J. Holliday, T. Bowser, D. Stack, F. Nardulli, L. Bergman, C. Albosta, D. Smith, C. Haines
 Second row — A. Miller, J. Geipel, C. Rebel, R. Selko, D. Rask, D. Heintz, R. Nelson, J. Mast
 Third row — D. Uhlenburg, W. Dietrich, J. Mattys, B. Young, B. Randolph, J. Nardulli
 Fourth row — D. Kunkel, T. Krupa, M. Heim, P. Basset, A. Watts, E. Naumann

The West View High School W.P.I.A.L. baseball team, under the expert direction of Mr. Hartman, has won their third straight section crown. Last year the Indians had an overall record of eleven wins, three defeats and one tie. In league competition the Viewers went undefeated, winning seven and losing none. At the end of the season West View was on top of Section VI, two games ahead of second place Neville. In the W. P. I. A. L. section playoffs, West View was defeated by West Allegheny. The score was West Allegheny 8, West View 0.

Looking at the records we found most of the pitching assignments were given to Whitey Rebel and Dale Kunkel. Rebel won four games and lost none. His four wins included a no-hit, no-run game against Bellevue. Dale Kunkel's record was three and zero.

Looking further into the record, we found Dick Stack leading the team in the batting department with an average of .417. On the base paths, Lyle Bergman made up his average with eight stolen bases, leading the team in this department.

At the start of the season Lyle Bergman received the pitches, but this job was later taken over by Ted Bowser, a promising freshman. Bergman then was transferred to the outfield. The infield consisted of Dick Stack at first, Frank Nardulli at second, Chester Albosta at third, and Dick Heintz at shortstop.

In the outfield we found Lyle Bergman, Ted Krupa, and Don Smith. Don Smith took Jeff Leake's place after he received an injury in the game with Neville. Thus, the Indians had a well-rounded team. Other members valuable to the team were R. Nelson, B. Young, C. Haines, J. Holliday, D. Rask, J. Nardulli, J. Mattys, A. Watts, J. Geipel, B. Selko, M. Heim, R. Randolph, D. Uhlenberg, R. Eaton, P. Basset, C. Phillips, E. Naumann, D. Fisher, T. Beckett, and W. Dietrich.

Credit should be given to a deserving team for winning the section crown for the third straight year.

MAY FESTIVAL

The first evidence of spring at West View comes with the anticipation of the crowning of the 1952 May Queen. Since February, when the announcement of the graces and attendants was made, the suspense has risen. Then the exciting night had arrived.

The trumpeters and jesters announced that another gala celebration was about to begin. First in the procession were the members of the Westvian staff who had devoted most of their senior year to turning out the '52 yearbook, and their escorts.

Following the court, came the Queen's personal attendants. This year they were Carole Kennedy, Maureen Mitchell, and Marie Strupek. Then came the two ladies-in-waiting Janet Moore, Joan Hartstein, and the Maid of Honor Lois Smith. They were all gowned in white and carried colorful bouquets. There was a pause and the May Queen herself entered. Her bouquet was white and she wore the symbolic train of a queen. The retiring Queen, Carol Schultheis, crowned Her Majesty the Queen, Barbara Cannon. The queen was then entertained by her court attendants. The recessional concluded another May Day success.

SENIOR DINNER DANCE

the last huddle

Although March 1, 1952, dawned cold and snowy, it did not dampen the spirits of the seniors who were anxiously awaiting the senior dinner dance. This big event started at 6:00 p. m. at the Webster Hall Georgian Room. All enjoyed a delightful dinner. Entertainment was provided by the boys' quartet, and Bob McCartney who brought back many wonderful memories during his reminiscences of all the events the class had experienced since forming in September 1949. The class then joined together and in tearful voices sang the Alma Mater; thus closing the dinner of the class of '52.

The happy, starry-eyed seniors and their guests danced to the mellow music of Brad Hunt's orchestra from 9:00 to 12:00. The gay laughter of the dancing couples filled the room and added to the wonderland type of atmosphere.

In order that they might preserve the cherished memories of the dinner dance, couples slipped away from their dancing for a moment to have their pictures taken.

All too soon, the dance drew to a close and the seniors and their guests left a little wistful but filled with happy thoughts.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY 1951

"What a Life"

"What a life!" The best way to describe how Henry Aldrich and his friends felt about the complicated life they led. Henry, who was notorious for his ability to get in trouble, certainly wasn't helped by the funniest teacher a school ever had. After being accused of cheating on a test, Henry tried to clear himself but only found that he was involved in a theft. Barbara, Henry's girl, tried desperately to help him out but only succeeded in becoming involved herself. Miss Wheeler, the victim of the theft, finally resorted to calling in Detective Ferguson to solve the case. Along with the lost instruments in Central High, was a student, Mary, whose Italian father was the comedian of the play. The real culprit was George Bigelow, the high school snob, who tried to steal Henry's girl. As the play moved on, we found Miss Shay, Mr. Bradley's secretary, and Mr. Nelson, the assistant principal, falling in love, giving the play a romantic aspect. Of course we can never forget the students who made the halls in the play seem as alive as the halls of West View. As the third act came to an end, everything miraculously straightened out. The hero and heroine were happy just as were the Juniors as their Junior Class Play came to an end. "All good things come last" and as we would like to take this opportunity to honor Miss Delp who really made the play a success with her tireless and capable directing. To us, "What A Life," was "What A Play!"

SENIOR CLASS PLAY 1952

"The Divine Flora"

Choosing a play was left in the hands of Mr. Craig who did both the casting and directing. He chose a three act comedy by Ryerson and Clements called "The Divine Flora."

The play, which was presented March 19, 20, and 21, portrayed the trials of a shy, motherless, awkward girl of fifteen beset by two boys whose sole ambition was to become advertising executives. They start proving their ability by getting an internationally known band leader by the name of Tex Arlen to dub her as Flora the Divine. This made Sharon, Randy's sister, quite jealous of Flora as Tex was her guest. He had given most of his attention to Flora. Things really started to pop when Tex's girl read about this and Flora's father ordered her home. Tex and Flora did start home but this move was misinterpreted and everyone thought they had eloped. Their plane had engine trouble and crashed into an isolated mountain, but they found a farmer who rented them his truck and got back in time to be greeted by Flora's father and Tex's girl. The purpose of their trip then came out and Tex and Daphne announced their marriage to the surprise of everyone.

Through the trials and tribulations of Randy, Buzz, and Flora things finally straightened out. Flora's father saw her as an attractive young girl and Randy and Buzz both got jobs with Dean, Dugan, and Drugett.

The senior class wishes to extend its thanks to Mr. Craig.

JUNIOR PROM 1951

Our Victory Ball

Dim lights, soft music, and West View Danceland — a perfect setting for our Junior Prom, a wonderland where dazzling couples floated to the lovely strains of Baron Elliot and his Orchestra.

The special night came on Friday, May 4, 1951. Although everyone was afraid it would rain, the day dawned clear and bright. The night was beautiful and the stars in the sky matched those in the lovely ladies' eyes as they arrived with their handsome escorts. After greeting the reception committee, the couples glided to the bewitching dance floor to enjoy the music until intermission. Then we were entertained with magic tricks and antics that truly added to the lovely evening.

The Prince Charmings and Cinderellas took a moment to have their pictures taken so that they would have a small token of a big event.

The clock struck twelve and so ended the never-to-be-forgotten Junior Prom. As the orchestra played "Good-night Sweetheart," the weary couples drifted from Danceland to continue their glamorous evening, so leaving not only the Prom behind, but a very wonderful Junior year as well.

HOBO HOUSE

Time Out

Welcome Hobos! The annual hobo gathering was held at the Hobo House, commonly called North Park Lodge, on Friday, November 9, 1951. All senior hobos were invited to attend and to come in their best hobo clothes.

To start the evening rolling, many couples arrived early so they could form their circles and start the fun rolling to the lively rounds of square dance music.

About halfway through the evening, all the hobos retired to the basement, "city dump," for refreshments. While everyone was enjoying the Mulligan's Stew, better known as food, some of the better dressed hobos put on a skit. Three boys: Frank Nardulli, Tom Royston, and Don Uhlenburg were on trial for breaking some of the very traditional hobo rules. They were tried by a very honest upright jury that consisted of judges Roy Williams, Bob McCartney, Bruno Solari, and Don Rethage. They were found not guilty, however, and were free to go on with their lives.

After the skit, everyone went back upstairs and resumed their square dancing.

Everyone was having such a terrific time that the evening seemed to end all too soon. The Senior Hobos of 1952 will always remember the wonderful evening they spent at the "Hobo House."

SHUFFLE SHOP

Trades Spikes for Suedes

Do you like soft music, dimmed lights, hot dogs, and "Cokes?" Well, you can find all these things every Saturday night at Shuffle Shop. You can also find happy couples dancing to the rhythmic music of Jack Shankle's band. Under the watchful eye of our male secretary, Roy Williams, the Shuffle Shop committee worked to full capacity. One of the big attractions of the year occurred when Art Pallan and RCA Victor Caravan visited Shuffle Shop and presented door prizes to many of the lucky comers. Another big attraction was the "Sock Dance." Everybody checked their shoes at the door and had a really swell time dancing in their socks.

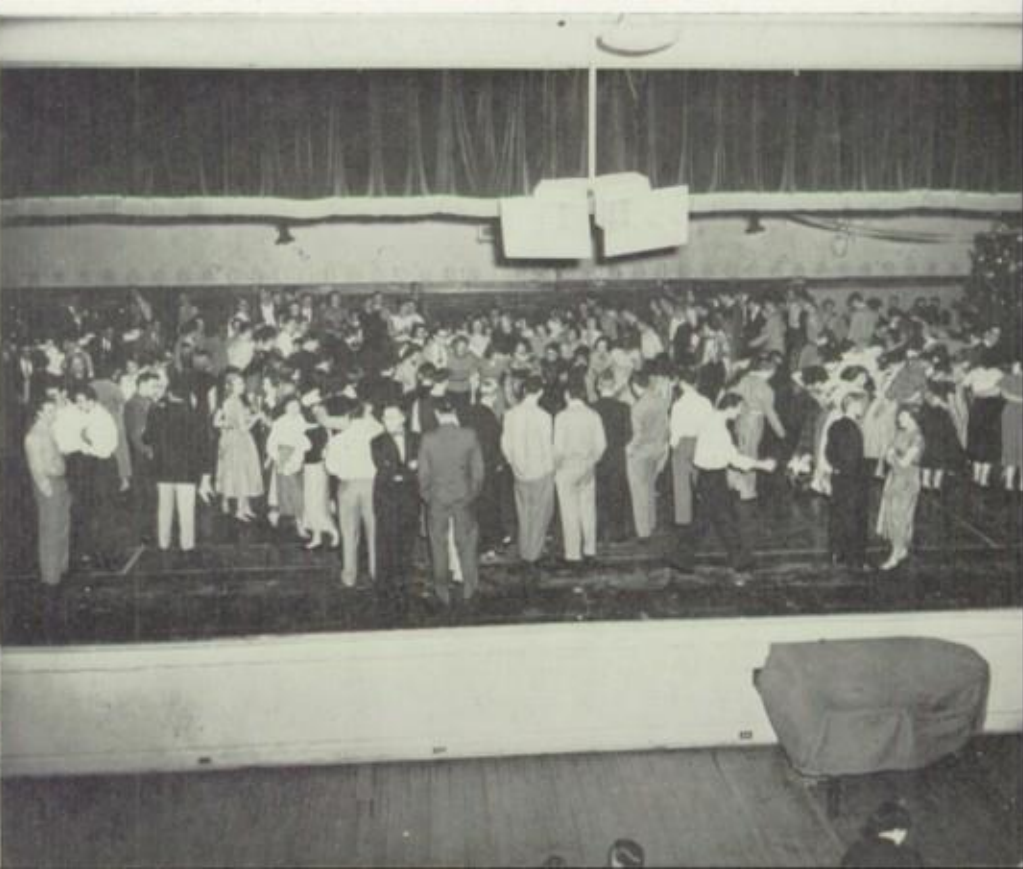

Everyone appreciated the change at Shuffle Shop to three songs to a dance since it gave the fellows and girls a little longer to dance together.

Many different dances each month gave Shuffle Shop variety—those ever-popular blue-jean dances were hits, as usual, and Halloween, Christmas, and spring dances really gave Shuffle Shop added appeal.

Before we knew it, another year had passed and along with it memories never to be forgotten.

Included in the thanks for the efforts of Roy Williams and the S. S. committee, goes another vote of thanks to all the parents who willingly gave up their Saturday nights to chaperone Shuffle Shop—our favorite dance.

 Third row — Bob McCartney, Carole Kennedy

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

Star Players

Each year we seniors select eight of us who we think are the most outstanding. This year's outstanding seniors were outstanding in every sense of the word. Take for instance, Harry Pople and Carol Gallwits. They were chosen Most Likely To Succeed. With Harry's ease of handling things and capability he is bound for fame and fortune. And having Carol as the editor-in-chief of our paper, has shown us that she is capable of handling both the best and worst of things. By their untiring efforts and efficiency, both, we are certain, will succeed in everything they do.

Then, there is Bob McCartney and Carole Kennedy who were voted as the two people who Did Most For West View. Devoting her time to produce an exceedingly fine and well-planned yearbook, Carole has shown us that the school benefited greatly by her laudible efforts. Having Bob as the President of our school has been a great asset and he has donated much of his time to outside activities for bettering our school and its activities.

As for the Most Typical Girl of our class, nobody but Joan Hartstein could fit this title. One could always see her bubbling over with energy, running to this meeting and then to that one. But we must not forget the Most Typical Boy, who was none other than our own Roy Williams. With Roy's witty remarks and his incredible humorous attitude, he was always found "livening up" those dull classes.

Last but not least, we have Frank Nardulli and Nancy Jones filling the title of Most Athletic. Nancy will never be forgotten as the best basketball player on the Y-Teen and the G. A. A. team. Nancy, though being the smallest, proved to us that she was the best sportsman of our class. And having Frank on the football, basketball, and baseball teams has made him superior in the field of sports. We see an excellent future for Frank and all other outstanding seniors of the class of 52.

Alma Mater

*Nestled snug 'mid wooded hilltops,
Shrined in every heart,
Our beloved Alma Mater
West View, fair thou art.*

*Voices gay, of youth and maiden,
Echo 'round thy halls.
Memories tender cling forever
To thy chambered walls.*

Chorus—

*Alma Mater, we thy children
Tribute bring to thee,
Hail to thee, our dear old West View
Hail thy memory.*

Dear Bill, I've known you for many years and you've been a swell guy all that time. Keep up the good work in speech and you will be sure to climb the ladder to success. Be good now. Billy Always remember.
Dolly Jo

Dear Bill,

Keep up your good speech work and someday you'll be president. (Who knows what of, maybe of the U.S. or maybe of the paper bag manufacturing company.)
Keep that good personality and you will win many friends.

Always remember
Dore, who stays
good through speech
with you.

Bill
 "Willie Willie"
 bump

 your future years at West View. I will always remember your jokes. (Ha Ha)

 Good luck and much success.
 Love,
 Keith

May back here where we will look,
 I'll write my name in your
